Pack It Up

You may not be lugging around textbooks, but chances are you travel with a laptop on occasion. An all-in-one computer/gym bag makes for easier commuting and higher chances of packing workout clothes. We found three perfect for hauling your computer and your fitness gear.

- The Wellness Tote ($65) by New Balance is roomy and easy to carry. It has a padded pocket perfect for stashing your laptop, external straps for attaching your yoga mat, and an amazing amount of storage pockets. A little locker room organization goes a long way for saving time.
- Osprey makes great packs and the FlapJill Pack ($89) adds some style to the mix. There's a spot for a 17-inch laptop with a drawcord weather protector, and three different colors of webbing options to personalize your backpack. This is a great bag for a biking commute.
- The Wet Coast Backpack ($128) from Lululemon has a padded pocket for your laptop, a wet/dry pocket for sweaty gear, and a pullout rain cover that accommodates a yoga mat.
