2012: The Coming Gearpocalypse

January 02, 2012

The Mayans might have thought the world would end in 2012. We'll wait and see on all that, I guess. Mean time, a closer onslaught is coming in the form of the season's biggest outdoor-industry event, the Outdoor Retailer Winter Market trade show, this month, January 19 – 22, in Salt Lake City, Utah, where a literal tsunami of gear will hit. As always, a few "junkies" from our site — reporters, editors, Team GearJunkie athletes — will be on the scene, and we promise comprehensive coverage of the coming swag-storm in SLC. But first, here below we provide a sneak peek at the coming gearpocalypse to preview some of the neatest new gear that will be whirlwinding in to land in stores sometime in mid-2012. Enjoy the ride!
