

OutsideOnline.com

May 10, 2013

A Messenger Bag for Your Tablet

Featuring: Beta Port and Powerhouse

Monthly Traffic: 587,600

URL: <http://tinyurl.com/c5wqrbe>

OSPREY BETA

A messenger bag for your tablet

---

The Gear Shed

Berne Broudy covers
all the gear that's fit to print.

Along with laptops and smartphones, tablets are tech that has become integral to daily life.

So Osprey designed its Portal series of packs to make access easier. Its new Beta Port courier bag has a padded pocket with a clear port window just under the flap that lets you use your tablet without removing it from your bag.

---

“The Portal Series is a great example of how technology and design can be married in a really innovative way,” said Cassie Tweed, product designer at Osprey. “With the new Portal series, we have broken new boundaries by designing packs that aren’t just for carrying, but for interacting with tech tools.”

The Beta has separate padded laptop and tablet sleeves, document sleeves, an organizer panel to keep small items secure and accessible, a scratch-free electronics/sunglass pocket and a padded top grab handle. Buy Osprey’s PowerHouse Add-On ($15) separately—it holds a laptop cord, tablet and cell phone cords, battery packs, USB drives and other accessories to keep them from getting lost or tangled.

Available Fall 2013, $99.

