2013 Holiday Gift Guide for Outdoor Enthusiasts

With last season's stock of outdoor gear sold out, the holidays are the best time to buy the newest items on the market. Use this gift guide, with the latest equipment for hiking, camping and backpacking, to make sure your favorite people are ready for their first adventure of the year.

Mira Series Hydration Pack

The right amount of space, plenty of pockets and easy access to water makes the female-only Mira Series pack ideal—not just for hikers, but for any outdoor adventurer in your life. The Mira style is very small, however, and not suited for a long trip with a lot of equipment. For a backpacking pack that can fit a sleeping bag, clothing and more, go with the Viva Series, which is much larger but has the same features as the Mira.
