

Switchback

April/May 2014

Outfitted: Trail

Featuring: Raptor 10

1. PACK: OSPREY RAPTOR TEN. The perfect size for an all-day ride, the Raptor 10 has plenty of space with a generous amount of pockets to bring all your energy bars, tools, and tubes, with enough extra space for a couple of beers. It features "Lid Lock" helmet storage and hip pockets that are easily accessed while riding.

2. HELMET: BELL STOKER. In the helmet industry, Bell's new Stoker is a game-changer with good ventilation and a variety of colors, the Stoker provides high-end features and SpeedDial fit system. $120; bell.com

3. GLASSES: OAKLEY RADARLOCK. The Oakley RADARLOCK is the perfect combination of color and performance. Plus, the legendary durability of Oakley makes them just right for your bike. Lenses are interchangeable and tint when conditions shift. $120; oakley.com

4. JERSEY: MAVIC CROSSMID. The loose fitting jersey will keep your arms and help you maintain your cool. The cuff-less sleeves and versatility of this jersey are guaranteed to be a hit amongst the enduro crowd and many other trail riders. Besides, who doesn't want to roll out showing off Jérôme Clementz's colors? $80; mavic.com

5. JACKET: MAVIC STRATOS. This jacket offers protection from wind, rain, snow or any other weather. $120; mavic.com

6. SHORTS: SCOTT TRAIL. The 3D EVA foam tongue is pre-shaped to deliver comfort over a long day on the bike. $120; scott-sports.com

1. PACK: OSPREY RAPTOR TEN. The perfect size for an all-day ride, the Raptor 10 has plenty of space with a generous amount of pockets to bring all your energy bars, tools, and tubes, with enough extra space for a couple of beers. It features "Lid Lock" helmet storage and hip pockets that are easily accessed while riding. $120; ospreypacks.com