Here's our second batch of favs from the recent OR show in Salt Lake City.

OSPREY AURA AG

"Revolutionize" is a word we like to stay away from. But it's appropriate here because Osprey has indeed revolutionized the pack with their new Anti-Gravity Suspension system, featured in the Atmos AG and Aura AG ($260 for the 65L version).

What the company has done is build a suspension system that literally wraps around your body like someone hugging you. Instead of having to make tons of adjustments to get the pack to conform to your body, this suspension system does it for you. You still have to adjust some straps for the perfect fit, but we've never used a pack that felt so comfortable, right from the start.
