11 Outdoor Gifts for Exploring Our Amazing Planet

Whether it's scaling an icy cliff or racing down a rocky mountain pass, adventurers need a lot of gear to support their epic pastimes. But what do you get for the adventure junkie who seems to have everything? We rounded up the must-have items, many of which cost  less than $30, for that special daredevil in your life.

If You Want to Splurge ($200 or Less)

1. Osprey Poco Plus child carrier, $181.96

Osprey Poco Plus child carrier

Getting outdoors can be challenging with little ones in tow, but the Osprey Poco Plus child carrier keeps both parent and tot comfortable on long hikes. The backpack provides adjustable harnesses that make it a good fit for both tall and short people, a hydration sleeve for water and a built-in sunshade so little ones can nap. The backpack has 0.875 square feet (23 L) of storage space for essential gear. The backpack also comes with a spot for quickly attaching a separate day pack, which older tots can carry when they decide to walk. The carrier can lug kids who weigh up to 48.5 lbs. (22 kg), so even 5-year-olds can take breaks in the carrier if they're feeling tired. (Though you will really, really want a kid that heavy to walk!)
