GearJunkie 'Top Gear' Of The Year 2015

It's the end of 2015, and as is our annual tradition a time to look back at the best gear we tested this year. Of the hundreds of products GearJunkie staff and team athletes reviewed and put through the paces these items stood out as some of the best.

Osprey Atmos AG Backpack

The "AG" stands for anti-gravity, and the Osprey Atmos AG does seem to include some magic in its meshy support system. The back panel and harness suspend the pack away from a wearer's body, adding comfort and breathability. For modest loads, it's the most comfortable backpack we tested this year.
