

ElevationOutdoors.com

March 23, 2010

Festivarian Consumerism

Featuring: The FlapJill Pack

URL: <http://tinyurl.com/y5wxx5c>

Even the festival faithful need some swag. It's an art to know what to bring to survive the show. Here we share our favorites to help enjoy the event in style.

This pack offers the rainproofing and quick opening flap top of a trendy messenger bag—but with padded, airy backpack straps and ventilating back suspension. It's the perfect size for hauling a day's worth of stuff from tent city to the show. Back in the real world, it's ideal for Denver bike commuting. (The FlapJill is designed for a lady's geometry. The men's version is the FlapJack). $89; ospreypacks.com

