Ease Travel Woes With These Luggage and Bag Options

If you haven't fought back tears standing barefoot among strangers, been berated for breaking a rule of which you were unaware, or stood in a cramped aisle as someone tried to cram one last thing into an overhead bin, then you haven't traveled by air lately.

But there's good news. Today's luggage options can ease the stresses of holiday travel, from security checkpoints to lugging heavy bags.

If you're worried about the weight of your luggage, Osprey offers new Ozone lightweight carry-ons, one of the lightest pieces of fully featured rolling luggage on the market, in three sizes, from 18 to 28 inches ($199-$299). The retractable handle has an ergonomically designed grip.

Osprey's Contrail series, with packs available in 22-inch ($299) and 28-inch ($339) sizes, also has a Handle-It feature so that accessories such as the Contrail courier ($119) and Contrail tote ($99) can be easily attached to the handle for transport. The packs also come with a removable laundry bag that fits into a back panel compartment and a removable FlightLocker organizer ($49 when sold separately) to keep clothes neat and organized.
