

bike

December 2012
 2012 Editors' Choice
 Featuring: Zealot
 Circulation: 45,273
 Readership: 181,092

FEW OF OUR FAVORITE THINGS • A FEW OF OUR FAVORITE THINGS

bike magazine
 2012
 EDITORS' CHOICE

OUR PICK

OSPREY ZEALOT
 $130 / OSPREYPACKS.COM

When it comes to overall fit and comfort, Osprey's packs are second to none. The straps are all easily adjustable on the fly, and the back panel does a fine job moving moisture away from the body. Of the Osprey line, the Zealot is the most feature laden, with smart and clever storage details like a detachable, rollout tool pouch, vented helmet holder and a clamshell-style opening to the main pouch for easy access to everything.

bike magazine

2012

EDITORS' CHOICE

bike magazine
 2012
 EDITORS' CHOICE

OUR PICK

OSPREY ZEALOT
 $130 / OSPREYPACKS.COM

When it comes to overall fit and comfort, Osprey's packs are second to none. The straps are all easily adjustable on the fly, and the back panel does a fine job moving moisture away from the body. Of the Osprey line, the Zealot is the most feature laden, with smart and clever storage details like a detachable, rollout tool pouch, vented helmet holder and a clamshell-style opening to the main pouch for easy access to everything.

HONORABLE MENTION
CAMEL BAK TRILENY
 $115 / CAMELBAK.COM

Thanks to its unique design, the Trileny is one of the lightest packs around. It's got a ton of storage and a roll-top top lid that can be used as a dry bag. The Trileny is a great choice for those who want a pack that's both light and durable.

HONORABLE MENTION
THE NORTH FACE MURRAY DICE
 $65 / THENORTHFACE.COM

The Murray Dice is a great choice for those who want a pack that's both light and durable. It's got a ton of storage and a roll-top top lid that can be used as a dry bag. The Murray Dice is a great choice for those who want a pack that's both light and durable.

OUR PICK

CLUB RIDE NEW WEST
 $65 / CLUBRIDECAPPELL.COM

A well-thought-out riding shirt, the Club Ride New West is a great choice for those who want a shirt that's both light and durable. It's got a ton of storage and a roll-top top lid that can be used as a dry bag. The Club Ride New West is a great choice for those who want a shirt that's both light and durable.

