It's in the Bag

Schlep your stuff in style and comfort this winter.

Running shoes, swimming goggles, bathing cap, bike helmet, extra clothing, smelly socks, Band-Aids, toe spacers, shower sandals, shampoo and conditioner, grooming items: You could hold a yard sale with the contents from the average runner's gym bag. You need the right bag to manage this menagerie. These six duffels offer storage solutions for the most active of runners, gearheads and triathletes to transport their stuff from home to office to home-away-from-home – the gym.

OSPREY

TRANSPORTER 46

$69

Osprey's 46-liter, 22-by-15-by-9-inch bag may be the smallest of the Transporter line, but it's the maximum size for carry-on luggage, so you can stuff it full and still avoid baggage fees. With only two small zippered pockets, the interior is mostly a single, big compartment. It will fold into one of those pockets if you want to take it as an extra bag, or a hip belt will help you wear it properly as a backpack.
