

bike

March 2013

Showcase: Hydration Station

Featuring: Raptor 14

Circulation: 45,273

Readership: 135,819

Osprey Raptor 14

$130 / OSPREYPACKS.COM

Osprey's Raptor hydration packs have always been among our favorites, due to their super-comfortable fit and smartly designed cargo storage.

This year, the company has addressed—and improved upon—all of the complaints we've had with the previous version. The entire reservoir is now easily removed without having to snake the hosing through the shoulder strap's guide, the hose diameter has been changed to offer more water flow and the magnetic bite-valve holder has been refined to work better.

In addition to these improvements, the Raptor now includes the removable, roll-up tool pouch that we like so much about the company's Zealot pack. With the Raptor 14, Osprey has again raised the bar for hydration-pack innovation.

