2013 Readers' Choice Award Winners

To truly experience the wilderness, you'll need to step off the pavement and hike into your next camping destination! And to get there, you will need to pack your camping gear into a backpack. About Camping Readers' selected Osprey as their favorite backpack for backcountry camping

Osprey makes backpacks in a variety of sizes for men and women and is known for backpack innovation, superior quality, and lightweight construction. Learn more about the 2013 About Camping readers' favorite camping tent online at Osprey Packs

About Osprey: "Since Osprey was founded in 1974, every single product design bearing the Osprey name has passed through the hands of owner and founder Mike Pfotenhauer, undergoing relentless scrutiny. From stitching the first lines of custom-fitted packs, to meticulously designing innovative products with intuitive features, to forging personal relationships with the sewing operators who construct the packs, Mike has been the unbreakable thread that makes Osprey a company like no other.

"Osprey's mission is to create innovative high performance gear that reflects our love of adventure and our devotion to the outdoors. We succeed when we meet the demanding expectation of our most discerning customers and they are proud to use our packs." – Osprey Packs
