

Backpacker

May 2013

Pack Upgrades

Featuring: Hydraulics™ Reservoir

Circulation: 340,000

Readership: 1,069,000

Pack Upgrades

3 great ways to store accessories, water, and food ✓

Granite Gear Air Zipp Twists

$33 for two
9-liter pouches;
1.2 ounces;
granitegear.com

Pros

Marshmallow-light with water-resistant zippers, these rugged, colorful nylon storage sacks come in 5-, 9-, 14- and 20-liter sizes to help you stay impeccably organized.

Cons

A tad pricey ✓

Osprey Hydraulics Reservoir

$36; 3 liters; 10.3 oz.;
ospreypacks.com

The rigid frame and stiff handle make loading it a snap. The bite valve has 360 degrees of mobility and a magnet that mates it to Osprey shoulder straps.

Slightly heavy compared to other hydration bladders

MHM Snack Stacker
$48; 1 lb. 9 oz.;
mhmgear.com

This insulated, structured foam cube (8" x 5" x 5") keeps food cold for several hours and includes an aluminum grill and plastic cutting board hidden in its bottom for meal prep.

It's weighty; leave behind the grill and cutting board to shave 8.6 ounces.

