We sent a half-dozen editors and reporters to cover the Outdoor Retailer trade show in Salt Lake City this week. Thousands of brands displayed new gear for 2015. The equipment below, part I of our "Best In Show" award series, represents some of the most unique and innovative items you'll see on the shelves at outdoor shops around the U.S. next year.

Osprey 'Wrap' Backpack — The Osprey Atmos AG and Aura AG packs have a suspension/harness system unlike anything we've seen. Like a hammock on the back, the suspension mesh wraps around the wearer's hips and into the shoulder straps.

The effect is a pack body that barely contacts the wearer, suspended away from the torso in most points for incredible ventilation and a secure, comfortable hug. We can't wait to test this one out. It will hit the market in 2015.
