Cortez, CO – June 16, 2014 – For Spring/Summer 2015, Osprey Packs is expanding their accessory line, providing a complete solution for everything adventurers need to organize and protect their pack. The new accessories range from in-pack options such as dry sacks and organizers to on-pack ones, including add-on pockets and camera cases.

"With the trend towards smaller packs, organization is key," says Cassie Tweed, Design Director at Osprey Packs. "With Osprey's new accessories, our consumers now have a complete, quality solution to optimize their Osprey packs and luggage."

In-Pack Accessories Osprey's new dry sacks and compressions sacks are rectangular by design to deliver the most space-efficient packing possible.

Ultralight Dry Sack provides weather-defying gear storage through its rolltop, waterproof closure and waterproof-coated nylon ripstop fabric and seams. Sizes: 3L-30L; MSRP: $13- $25 (pictured) Osprey's Straightjacket Compression Sacks, with compressible nylon wings and buckles, are rectangular in shape and designed to fit the width of the pack. A large zippered opening makes access a breeze while the nylon ripstop fabric is water resistant with waterproof-coated fabric and seams. Sizes: 8L- 32L; MSRP: $25 – $35

Osprey's three new ultralight organizers provide solutions for every organizational need: the Ultralight Zip Organizer: $35, the Ultralight Roll Organizer $30 and the Ultralight Padded Organizer $25

On-Pack Accessories

Ultralight GrabBag: Osprey's new Ultralight GrabBag easily connects to most backpacks, creating extra space on the pack. When it's time to leave the pack behind for a mini-adventure, it converts to a lumbar pack, allowing the backpacker to grab and go. MSRP: $25

Alpine Pocket: This removable accessory adds 3 liters to packs when attached, and can be easily removed for day-trip use. MSRP: $35

Ultralight MapWrap: Nobody likes a soggy map. Osprey's Ultralight MapWrap will keep this all-important traveler tool protected, thanks to its waterproof welded seams and sleeve closure. When not in use, the MapWrap rolls up and can attach to a pack via carabiner clips. MSRP: $25

Ultralight Camera Case: These camera cases are both protective and versatile. The four padded cases can accommodate cameras of multiple sizes, from small phones to SLR cameras and they can attach to a pack or be used independently. MSRP: S $20; M $25; L $30; XL $40
