FODOR'S APPROVED: 10 BEST CARRY-ON BAGS FOR 2014

OSPREY OZONE 18" CARRY-ON

The Tester: Linda Cabasin, Editorial Director

The Review: I took the Osprey ($200) on a weekend road trip to Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and also gave it a good run on my bus commute to Fodor's office. The backpack-on-wheels look suited my casual jaunt, and its many handy pockets—inside and outside, vertical and horizontal—made it a snap to store walking shoes, a few tops and pants, a sweater, and random gear. The wheels work fine, but the highlight for the ozone series Osprey is its incredible lightness: I loved that.

The Catch: If you prefer a formal style of bag, the backpack design won't appeal.

The Verdict: I'd use the Osprey Ozone again for its lightness and ease of packing; I even liked the green! It's a great choice for outdoorsy travelers.
